

AIA Trust

Where smart architects manage risk

Dear AIA Member:

On behalf of the AIA Trust, congratulations on your membership in The American Institute of Architects!

The AIA Trust offers you, as a member of AIA, many insurance and financial benefit programs – and a wealth of free risk management resources. Visit our website at theAIATrust.com to find those which will help you most.

As a new member, the AIA Trust will be sending you a gift—in recognition of your joining the AIA. The gift is for group term life insurance coverage at no cost to you for a year—but you must activate it. Look for your notification and enrollment form in the mail.

If you are a new first-time AIA member, we offer you another benefit—a free, six-month subscription to your ‘practice coach’ LegalLine, a legal information service especially designed for architects. To find out how to activate your no-obligation subscription and getting the expert information you need to help your practice run smoothly, simply visit the AIA Trust web site, click on “Practice Coach” for members, and scroll down to “New AIA Member Benefit.”

In its role as a risk management resource for members, the AIA Trust is constantly developing useful tools, resources, and programs to help you be successful. Check out our website to find those that best suit where you are in your career—from specialized data on professional liability insurers to webinars with incentives for new AIA member starter firms to white papers and articles on vital topics of today’s architectural practice. Be sure to visit the AIA Trust “Practice Resources” page to avail yourself of valuable information to help you be successful.

Don’t wait to take advantage of the many specialized programs for you and your firm that your AIA membership offers. Should you have any questions regarding your membership, please call AIA Information Central at 800-242-3837. For information on AIA Trust benefits, call 202-626-7376—or simply visit www.TheAIATrust.com today to benefit from everything the AIA Trust offers you!

We look forward to helping you.

Sincerely,

Ann Casso, Hon. AIA
